Subject: Good morning

And how is Shirley. doing well I hope?

Some time ago I said I would like for you to help me with the Ehrman genealogy, but Barb, my nephew Steve and I got so involved with the Harmon side that I didn't get back with you. At my age I take one thing at a time if I can. Before going to bed last night I went into Ancestry and under I think just Search-can't remember the rest-I put in George Ehrman, I didn't come up with anything for him but there was info under military for a Joseph. Frank's ggrandfather had a brother Joseph younger than he, born in 1843. The Joseph I found died in Feb 1863 as a PVt Co D 93rd Reg Pa Infy. doesn't give a cemetery nor where it says at, but below says Dauphin Co Pa. Now how many Ehrman's are from Dauphin, I really haven't found anyother. How do I go about finding out who his parents were and where he is buried? Maybe he is buried near his mother whom I can't find. Lots and lots of questions.

Have a great week and let me hear from you.

on the Sweets' in Nelson Co and it seems to tie in very well with your findings in 1850 there agree?

your Ellick Co. 1850 - an Owen Sweet was on the tax lists & Leavel Co. Ky. (Gives Bleake) from 1835 to 1840 so if some men it looks like all his chr. should have been b. in Ky. - but maybe he just had land there up to about 1841 & lived in Tenn. till then if at 3 chr. - really b.
Tenn. - but if James D. Sweet Mai gasper family belongs to Owen & he b. Ky. they must have come by 1834 then back to Tenn. - then back to Ky. again - for he must be the James D. Sweet who by consent of Owen Sweet m. here 11-17-1852 Margaret Smith who

Dear Shirley:

Again I'm deep in debt to you - and so very grateful for all the new, to me - census records and especially the 2 marriage records you found in Hardin Co. Ky.

Reley Byland had asked me years ago if I thought her Benjamin F. Sweet (b. 1809 & James Sweet and Elizabeth Furman) who m. Jane Robinson ^{b. 1809 Va} who m. to Hardin Thomas & Lucy Robinson who came from Va. to Hardin Co. Ky. in 1812 - could have been a brother of Allen D. Sweet who m. Mary Robinson - and the latter a sister of Jane - and since getting the mar. records of both & 1850 census for Allen D. & comparing his
chr. with those of Benj.'s & Jane in Brown Co. O.
census I'm betting they were a brother & sister combination, as both couples had daughters named Lucy & Elizabeth - and sons named James, Andrew and William. See if I can win this bet too, eh? Is there any Ky. 1820 census records in your library or an index for the 1820, 1830, 1840 & 1850 censuses of Ky. showing all spellings of Sweet & Sweet?
By the way what to the letters NTL you show on some of the 1850 census you sent stand for? I had never seen this before, but suppose they could mean "National" eh?

It looks like the Sweet & Sweet in 1850 Butler & Co. Ky. must be descendants of the Wm. Sweet 1745-1832 Rev. Soldier from Survey Co. N.E. m. Sarah Hayes

Turner - listed in Patents Index. The only Wm. in N.E. 1790 census was in Survey Co. & had a-4-3 ^{old son} ^{was} ^{old son}

At the time 1800 with 22801/00001 & 3 other families after this 1810 with 01201/00001 and 3 other families are now him Edward Sweet 00001/00001 (poor, his age 20)

10100/0100 and George Sweet 00010/0100 (but 3 are sons of Wm. Sn.?) I don't have 1820 census for this co. but do know that there was a Wm. Sweet & a Nathan Sweet on the 1818 & 1823 Tax list of Campbell Co.

Turner & since the eldest son of Agnes (in Agnes's) 20 above as b. in Tenn. ca 1822 (4 yrs 35) or 1820 (4 yrs 23) I don't see any of the last figures but believe it is a 9 with bottom part filled up with ink right?) and parents b. N.E. - may well be Agnes. Could have been the youngest son of the Wm. in N.E. 1790-1810 and he could be father of all the others in Butler Co. Ky. 1850 and a brother of the youngest son Logan Co. Ky. 1850 & the pa. of the younger Agnes -

William Co. was formed from Butler & Logan & there in 1850 found a George W. Sweet 58 Tenn. wife Saline 49 Tenn. (and wife? what the date 1841 in 1850) son

Peter Scholl appeared early in the Shenandoah Valley. He was on the muster roll of Augusta Co. as Captain of Militia Company #5 in 1742; was made County Court Justice in Augusta Co. December 9, 1745; commissioned Coroner April 14, 1746 and served several years; commissioned Captain of a company of infantry August 19, 1746; and Colonel on August 21, 1752. He lived on "Reed Creek" in 1752. On August 17, 1753 he qualified as a Justice. On March 23, 1764 he is listed as a witness from Frederick with a distance of 45 miles. In 1759 and 1764 there is a Peter Scholl on the Rent Roll of Frederick Co., VA.

Peter Scholl was living on Smith Cr. in what is now Shenandoah Co., VA February 8, 1777 when he sells 30A of his tract, Long Bottom, to his cousins Uniss and Mary, daughters of Seriah Stratton, in consideration of natural love and affection and for the better maintenance of Uniss and Mary after the death of their father. Witnesses: William Scholl, Peter Fine, Joseph Scholl. DB "B" P 520 Shenandoah Co., VA Rec 26 Aug 1777.

Peter Scholl is listed as deceased in a deed filed in Shenandoah Co., VA on August 25, 1779. That deed records the sale of land from William Scholl, the only surviving son of Peter Scholl. It was signed by William Scholl and Leah Scholl with the mark of Sarah Scholl.

John I. Henderson, 74, of Mountain Home, Ark., who had spent most of his life in Muscatine, died at 12:45 today at his home after a twelve year illness.

He was born July 1, 1886 in Kansas, a son of John I and Nellie Billings Henderson.

Surviving are his widow, five sons, C. E. Henderson, Allen Henderson, Kenneth Henderson and John Henderson of Muscatine and Cecil Henderson of Rock Island. Two daughters, Mrs. William Yeater and Mrs. Paul E. Hunn of Muscatine; five brothers, George E. Henderson of Spokane, Wash., T. O. Henderson of Phillips, Tex., Earl Henderson of Tomahawk, Wis., Charles A. Henderson of Muscatine and Jack Henderson of Rock Island; and two sisters, Katherine Zinn of Hollywood, Calif. and Mrs. Fred Marquard of Muscatine.

The body is being returned to the Riley Funeral Home where arrangements for services are pending. Burial will be in Greenwood cemetery.

Through find a grave: Elsetta stated she received the following comment from his grandson. His grandson says that the obituary was incorrect, and that his parents were actually, John David Henderson & Nellie Ingram Henderson.

I added the following statement so I would keep it straight:

This John's Father is John David Henderson, I have him born in 1860 in Ohio. His Death & Burial is still unknown. John D. married Nellie Jane (Billings)Henderson(1867-1948). After John D. died, she married Ferdinand Christ Vetter. John I. Sr. had a son John Ingram Henderson Jr.(1922-2006). Talk about confusing with the names. I added this statement after I confused myself. Hopefully it will help any one else.

1. John M. Henderson b. 22 Jul 1806, Newman's Mill, Indiana County, PA,¹ occupation Laborer/farmer, m. (1) 10 Feb 1825,¹ Jane Steele, b. 10 Feb 1807, Pennsylvania, d. By 1860, m. (2) 03 Mar 1864, in Brown County, Indiana,² Adeline Taylor, b. c 1850, Ohio, (daughter of Benjamin Taylor and Mary Elizabeth Mobley). John died 02 Aug 1875,¹ buried: Methodist Churchyard, Montgomery Co.IL.¹ The Bible record says John was buried at Aut Mea in the Methodist Churchyard. There is an Oconee just across the line in Shelby Co. IL. Could this be the name of the town? In 1850/1860 John was in Warren Twp. of Washington Co.OH. In 1870 he was living in Beck's Grove of Brown Co.IN. In 1840 John and Jane were listed in Sandy Creek Twp. Venango Co.PA. Newman's Mill is mentioned in the Bible record. Could this be John's birthplace? This is in Indiana Co.PA. Son William's death certificate states John & Jane were born in Connecticut. Jane: Jane does not appear in the 1860 census with John and the children, It is assumed that she died between 1850-1860. If so, she is probably buried in Washington Co.OH. Adeline: In 1910 Adeline was living with a Hannah J. Hanson age 65yr in Brown Co.IN (4-38-8A). She was listed as a servant and a widow. It has been reported she was married 4 times - m. Andrew Lemon 12/22/1876 (Barth. Co. C10-77)-divorced, then John A. Snyder 4/17/1885 (Brown Co. Bk.3 p.24), div. Then William Palmer 7/26/1905. In 1910 she was listed as Henderson. More research needs to be done on this. In 1900 she reported 6 children with only 1 living.

Children by Jane Steele:

- + 2. i William b. 05 Nov 1825.
 - 3. ii John Henderson b. 03 Aug 1827.¹ There is some question about John's birthdate in the Bible record. It is very difficult to read, but it looks like the above. This John probably died young as he is not in the 1840 census. Another son born 5/16/1839 was also named John.
 - 4. iii Rachel Henderson b. 17 Nov 1829.
 - 5. iv James Henderson b. 27 Nov 1831. In 1860 there is a James age 30 with wife Rebecca age 19, George 7/12 and a John age 21 (b. 1839) living in Warren Twp. Wash. Co.OH #1782-1750. This could be our James. Washington Co.OH marriages show James to an Ann R. Maloom 7/4/1858.
 - 6. v Leah Jane Henderson b. Dec 1833.
 - + 7. vi Joseph Allen b. 03 Oct 1835.
 - + 8. vii Smith b. 03 Oct 1835.
 - 9. viii John Henderson b. 16 May 1839.¹ The name is blurred in the Bible record but it definitely looks like John. The first John probably died as a child, perhaps a short time before this John was born. This could also explain why the older John is not accounted for in the 1840 census. This John is living with James in the 1860 Washington Co.OH census. In 1870 there is a John age 31, wife Lydia L. age 26, living in Oil City, Venango Co. PA, Cornplanter Twp.
 - + 10. ix Sarah A. b. 07 Mar 1841.
 - 11. x Henry Henderson b. 17 Nov 1842, Venango County, Pennsylvania, d. 24 Feb 1865, Savannah, Georgia,³ buried: Laurel Grove Cemetery. John Henderson and Jane (Steele) Henderson

John Henderson and Jane Henderson bought and sold land in Venango Co PA (1826-1843). Have copies of the deeds. He signed his name as John Henderson Jr. Most probably, John M was their son (listed as 9 in the 1850 census when James was about 18). It appears that they had 2 sons named John, with one older than James. They moved to Ohio more than once (lived in Tunnel, Barlow and elsewhere unknown). In 1862 they bought 120A of land in Brown Co IN with a loan from William Sharp, also of Barlow, Ohio. Have copy of the mortgage. It appears this land was for their son John M who married Adeline Taylor in Brown Co in 1864. It appears that she was also from Ohio and, in addition, that John M may also have borrowed from Wm Sharp. The 120A was sold in 1874 by John M and Adeline. John's and Jane's daughter Amanda Henderson married in Brown Co in 1865. Also, a granddaughter Susan Henderson married in Brown Co in 1866. Have copies of the 3 marriage certificates.

Their son William (my GGF) and wife Sarah Jane Spence Henderson lived in Brown Co from 1864 till 1874. Have copies of the deeds they took or conveyed. John M died and his estate was probated in May, 1876. Have copies of his estate records. I am still looking for where John and Jane Henderson died. William and Sarah moved to Christian Co IL and then to Bartholomew Co IN where they died in 1911 and 1910 respectively. Have copies of their death certificates. In 1864, while in Bellsville IN, William and William's oldest son John volunteered for Co. K, 29th Ind. Inf. and served about a year. Several of William's and Sarah's children lived and died in Columbus, Bartholomew CO IN.

Any info you have on your GGGF (son James Henderson) might help me find where John and Jane died. They moved many times and repeatedly bought land. Most of this family lived into their 80's or 90's. Good genes.....

MRS. ANN REBECCA HENDERSON—In April, 1871, James Henderson and his wife, Rebecca, left Warrensburg, in Johnson county, Missouri, and brought their family of five children through to Kansas in a wagon. They settled in Montgomery county where Mr. Henderson entered land in section 10, township 31, range 16, on which a cabin 7x10 had previously been built, and into this a portion of the family belongings were stored. Between the cabin and the wagon-box, the household found shelter the first summer, when a more pretentious log house, 20x20, was erected, in which the family was housed the succeeding four years.

The work of farm development began at once with the settlement of the Henderson place. During the earlier years, fences were put up, buildings were erected, and orchard and shade trees set out and, as their circumstances would warrant, more land was added to the home. Before his death in 1898, Mr. Henderson owned a tract of two hundred acres, successfully tilled, and well and substantially improved.

Mrs. Henderson was born in Wood county, Virginia, January 27, 1844, and left that state with her parents for Washington county, Ohio, when ten years old. She was a daughter of Silas and Elizabeth (Raines) Malcom, native born Virginia people, farmers and residents near the city of Charleston. Silas Malcom was a son of William Malcom, a Virginia gentleman with Scotch forefathers. The children of William Malcom were: Robert, John, William, Silas, Elizabeth and Mrs. Polly Dixon.

Silas Malcom's children were: William, Mrs. Emeline Howell, James, Mrs. Mary Neal, Mrs. Sarah Daugherty, of Columbus, Ohio; John, who was killed in the Civil war; Mrs. Rebecca Henderson, Andrew, of Cal.; Horace, Mrs. Nancy Wright, of Marietta, Ohio, and Silas, of Cal.

Ann Rebecca Malcom was married July 4, 1858, to James Henderson, her late husband. He was born in Columbiana county, Ohio, November 27, 1831, and passed his life in the States of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Missouri and Kansas. He enlisted in the Ohio National Guard, company "K," 148th regiment, under Capt. Wolcott; Col. Thomas Moore. The next year after the war closed he moved to Johnson county, Missouri and, five years later, came to Montgomery county, Kansas. He was a son of John and Jane (Steele) Henderson, natives of Pennsylvania, who reared other children, as follows: William, Rachel, who married Benj. Ray; Allen, Smith, John, Mrs. Sarah Crail, Henry, Mrs. Amanda Crouse, and Robert.

The children of Mrs. Henderson are: George, Charles, of Oklahoma, with children: Alphonso F., Alta, Flossie and James; Mrs. Frances Phelon, deceased; John, of Montgomery county; Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, of Neodesha, Kansas, with two children: Myra and Joy; Alonzo, of Neodesha, with two children: Pauline and Harold; Mrs. Etta Hurst, of DANIEL WRAY, one of the energetic, thrifty and comfortably situated farmers of Kiskiminetas township, is the eldest son of Robert and Abigail (Manners) Wray, and was born at Saltsburg, Indiana county, Pa., April 1, 1816. Daniel Wray (grandfather) was born in county Antrim, Ireland, about 1754, came to America in the early part of the eighteenth century and settled near Mercersburg, Franklin county, Pa. In a short time he went to Mt. Pleasant, Westmoreland county, and after a residence there of a few years he removed to the site of Saltsburg and purchased a farm of two hundred acres of land. A portion of that town is now built upon this farm, but then it was in woods, and wolves frequently attacked his sheep and drove them to his cabin door. He died about 1825. He was active in the interest of the Whig party, was useful as a member of the Presbyterian church and about 1783 married Elizabeth McKibben, by whom he had seven children: James, Elizabeth, John, Jane, Margaret, William and Robert. John Manners (maternal grandfather) was, in all probability, born in Washington county, about 1760, and about 1810 moved to Kiskiminetas township, where he bought a farm of two hundred acres, adjoining the coal works at Avonmore. He was an active, energetic man of good business tact, was a member of the Presbyterian church and helped to suppress the "Whiskey Insurrection" in Pennsylvania. In 1785 he married Sallie Couch, by whom he had eight children: Joseph, Elizabeth, Nathan, Margaret, Nancy, George, Polly and Abigail (mother of subject). Robert Wray (father) was born near Mercersburg, Franklin county, December 8, 1784. In 1800 he went to Saltsburg with his father, who had purchased a farm, and, becoming sickly, left its management to him. By farming and boiling salt water, he raised means sufficient to complete the payments on the farm as fast as they became due. In 1812 he married Abigail Manners and in 1820 came to this township, where he died August 15, 1869, in his eighty-fifth year. (For further history of him, see sketch of John M. Wray).

Daniel Wray was reared on the farm until twenty-four years of age, and received his education in the subscription schools of Kiskiminetas township and Saltsburg. He came with his father to Kiskiminetas township in 1820. He began teaching school in 1840 and taught six winter terms, working on the farm during the summer. At the end of this time he gave all his attention to farming and is now the possessor of a well-improved farm of one hundred and sixty-five acres of land.

On October 20, 1840, he married Sarah France, who was born June 22, 1820, and is a daughter of John France, a farmer of South Bend township. They have been the parents of seven children, four sons and three daughters: Robert, born February 15, 1842; Mary E., born April 30, 1844; Nancy J., born November 19, 1847; John M., born December 16, 1840, married to Annie Burnside; James H., born March 6, 1854, and died in infancy; William A., born May 9, 1855, married to Annie Anderson; and Anna M., born March 23, 1858, wife of Rev. Theodore Lee.

In politics, Mr. Wray is a staunch republican and takes an active part in the interests of his party, but has never aspired to political honors. He is a zealous church worker, belongs to the Presbyterian church at Elder's Ridge and aids the cause of Christianity in every possible way. He is an honest and upright man and highly respected by his neighbors.

GENERATION NO. 1

1. Philip¹ KING, Sr. was born 2 October 1709 at „Devonshire,England. Philip, Sr. died after 1783 at „PA.
Note from Rosalie L. Hartinger: According to tradition, Philip migrated to Philadelphia Co., from Devonshire, England about 1730 and married Catherine soon after that date.

Philip's parentage has not been proven, but a possible family exists in a record of St. Petros Church, Dartmouth, Devonshire, England as follows: "Issue of Philip King(e) and Mary _____; 1) Ann King, b. _____ 1701; 2) Agnes King(e), b. 10 Nov., 1706; 3) Philip King(e) b. 2 Oct., 1709." Another record of this King family: "St. Saviour Church, Dartmouth, Devonshire, England, Mary King, b. 26 Dec., 1695, daughter of Philip King."

Source notes from Broderbund® World Family Tree (WFT) CD12 #3318: Source given as LDS Ancestral File 25KM-QK gives Philip's date of birth as 2 Oct 1709. Also an estimated birth year for Catherine as 1710. (The estimation is probably based on the assumed birth year of Philip.)

Source notes from WFT CD23 #1778 and WFT CD36 #1400 give Philip's father as: Michael King, b. 1 Oct, 1662 in Devonshire, d. 23 Aug., 1734. And Philip's birth and death are given as: b. 1695, d. 1777. Philip's wife is given as: Catherine Anna Elizabeth Voltz. Her parents and birth and death are unknown, except for the usual fact in all references to her, that she was born on the ship at sea during their immigration.

For the unknown year of death of Philip and Catherine, for the moment, we have elected to say only, after 1752 for Catherine, since she was obviously still alive at the birth of the last of the children. Philip last appears in tax records of York County in 1783. The only definite "birth date" for the children is the baptismal date for Christopher, 17 Feb, 1733, at Christ Church, Philadelphia, at the age of "seven days." The family apparently lived in eastern Pennsylvania about 20 years before migrating to, perhaps, Montgomery and York counties. Four of the sons, (Christopher, Michael, Philip and John) and Elizabeth King Rambo and husband, Andrew, later moved further west to the Bedford Co. area which became Somerset Co., when Somerset was formed from Bedford in 1795. A King Family Bible dated 1747 was last known to be in the possession of Philip and Catherine's grandson, David King (the son of Christopher). See the note on his record.

Philip's name appears on a petition for a new minister by the members of St. James Church, Perkiomen, York Co., PA which was dated 1 August, 1736. A transcription of the petition was sent to Fred Coffman by the church in 1985. A copy of this letter is on the CO-ROM Appendix to this book.

Some of the birth year estimates in this and subsequent generations are estimates to differentiate persons with the same names from each other. Estimated birth years will hopefully be plus or minus 5 years of the true date. Some marriage dates will also be estimated, based on the birth of the first known child.

Joseph W. Henderson was reared on his father's farm. He received his education in the public schools as a student. At thirteen years of age he ran away from home and went to Philadelphia, where he enlisted, Feb. 1858, in Co. F, 12th Pa. Cavalry, and his parents learned and secured his release. He afterwards enlisted in Co. I, 10th regiment, Pa. Cavalry, and served creditably for eighteen days in the late civil war and in all the battles from Gettysburg to Lee's surrender at Appomattox Court House. He was discharged January 20, 1865, and was one of the youngest boys who served in the late war. He returned home, Taylor academy, taught several terms and spent one year (1870) at West Point Military academy. Not having a taste for legal pursuits, he abandoned the profession of arms and in 1873 entered the law office of Hgt. S. Hender. At June term, 1875, he was admitted to the Armstrong county bar and since then has been one of its established and successful lawyers of Kittanning. In politics he is an ardent republican. Served as chairman Republican county committee of Armstrong county and was a delegate to the State convention at Harrisburg, 1890. In 1874 he was elected district attorney, which office he filled successfully. He is a member of the Way of the Republic, Lodge No. 244, F. and A. M., and the First Presbyterian church of Kittanning.

He was married on April 18, 1868, to Sarah E. Barnard, daughter of H. B. Barnard, of Brass & Bend, this this have and child, a son, who is named Marcus Henderson.

Joseph W. Henderson is very fond of music and art and is able to appreciate the finished productions of the the antiquaries of the other. Through life he has met with good success. As a lawyer he ranks high Kittanning bar. As a public speaker he is pleasant, entertaining and eloquent. He is a logical and forcible orator, and leaves a permanent and strong impression. He is liberal and generous, of public-spirited and good, and while not seeking every opportunity to push himself forward, yet is popular throughout his community.

His wife's mother, the above story went to us by Louisa Butler. While not included, I suppose this was what she meant. All the other county histories were written.

"BIOGRAPHIES OF ARMSTRONG COUNTY, PA"

JOSEPH R. HENDERSON, a prominent and well-known lawyer of the Kittanning bar, and a successful and popular republican leader of Armstrong county, enjoys the proud distinction of having been one of the youngest boys who served in the Union armies during the late civil war. He is a son of John and Elizabeth (Fleming) Henderson and was born near Dayton, in Wayne township, Armstrong county, Pennsylvania, October 8, 1848. He traces his ancestry back to the Hendersons of the north of Ireland, who were a brave, daring and hardy race of people and whose descendants have been more or less prominent in civil and military affairs wherever they have settled. Thomas Henderson (paternal grandfather) left Ireland on account of the part he took against the English government in his native country. One of his friends, an ardent advocate of Irish independence, was hanged one day in his presence, and he immediately came to America to avoid the certainty of imprisonment and a probability of execution. He was married in Ireland and his wife was drowned some years after their arrival in this county in the Loyalhanna creek, near Saltsburg. He was an old time Presbyterian, who was devoted to the religious faith of his forefathers. He reared a family of three sons and several daughters. One of his sons is Joseph Henderson, of Blairsville, Indiana county, Pa., while another was John Henderson (father), who was born on Conneaut Lake, in Crawford county, Pa. In 1807 he moved with his father to Westmoreland county, where they settled near New Alexandria and where the latter died. About 1830 John Henderson removed to near the site of Dayton, this county, when that section of country was a perfect wilderness, with but here and there a solitary clearing and a lone settler's cabin. By hard labor he cleared out a fine farm, on which he resided till his death. He was a republican and had been an elder in the Presbyterian church for over forty years. His wife was Elizabeth Fleming, a daughter of Thomas Fleming, who was a member of the old and respected Fleming family of Indiana county. They had five children, three sons and two daughters: Joseph R., Isabella, wife of William Lamb, of Peabody, Marion county, Kansas; and Sophia M., a teacher in the public schools of Kittanning, and two who are dead.

Joseph R. Henderson was reared on his father's farm. He received his education in the public schools and Dayton academy. At thirteen years of age he ran away from home and went to Philadelphia, where he enlisted, February 23, 1864, in Co. K, 14th Pa. Cavalry, but his parents demanded and secured his release. He afterwards enlisted (1864) in Co. I, 112th regiment, Pa. Vols., but was transferred to the 19th New York Independent Battery, and on account of not being able to engage in the marches was made powder monkey. He served creditably for eighteen days in the Wilderness fights and in all the battles from Spottsylvania to Lee's surrender at "Appomattox Courthouse." He was discharged January 20, 1866, and was one of the youngest boys who served in the late war. He returned home, attended Dayton academy, taught several terms and spent one year (1870) at West Point Military academy. But having a decided taste for legal pursuits, he abandoned the profession of arms and in 1873 entered the law office of Hon. Edward S. Golden. At June term, 1875, he was admitted to the Armstrong county bar and since then has been one of the well-established and successful lawyers of Kittanning. In politics he is an ardent republican, served as chairman of the republican county committee of Armstrong county, and was a delegate to the State convention at Harrisburg, in June, 1890. In 1876 he was elected district attorney, which office he filled efficiently. He is a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, Lodge No. 244, F. and A. M., and the First Presbyterian church of Kittanning.

He was married on April 18, 1888, to Sallie E. Barnaby, daughter of A. M. Barnaby, of Brady's Bend, this county. They have one child, a son, who is named Marcus Henderson.

Joseph R. Henderson is very fond of music and art and is able to appreciate the finished productions of the one and the masterpieces of the other. Through life he has met with good success. As a lawyer he ranks high at the Kittanning bar. As a public speaker he is pleasant, entertaining and eloquent. He is a logical and forcible reasoner, and before a jury always makes a strong impression. He is clever and generous, is public-spirited and progressive, and while not seeking every opportunity to push himself forward, yet is popular throughout his county and wherever he is known.

Note from editor: The above copy sent to me by Louise Shaffer. While not included, I assume this was written at about 1889 when all the other county histories were written.

The first Presbyterians in the vicinity of what is now Saltsburg came into this section shortly after the opening of a land office in 1769 for sale of these lands, but it is very difficult to obtain any definite information of the time of first preaching. There appears to have been preaching at Unity in 1766, with the exception of an occasional sermon in the new settlements, there does not appear a record of the establishment of a pastorate in what is now Indiana county till the call of Rev. Joseph Henderson to Ebenezer, and even that time is uncertain, yet we learn he took charge of that congregation in 1790.

Of his labors, as well as those of the church, we give sketch elsewhere. Those living in the vicinity of the river in these years, and until 1824, worshipped with the congregations at Poke Run, Congruity, Salem or Ebenezer, and received their training under the ministry of Revs. Porter, McPherson, Henderson, Davis and Laird.

It was no uncommon thing in these early days for them to go several miles to divine service, carrying their rifles for protection, and remain for two discourses, returning home without having seen fire, for, as we have seen in the history of these early tents and log churches, there were no arrangements for fire. The first record we have of a distinct religious movement in the neighborhood was the organization of a little Sabbath school in the early part of the present century. The school was taught by Messrs. Robert and John Robinson, "and is believed to have been kept up until finally transferred to a little log schoolhouse at the end of the present railroad bridge." This little Sunday school and prayer meeting was the germ from which the present Sabbath school grew, and was probably one of the earliest movements of this kind in Western Pennsylvania."

A small stone building was erected at a cost of about $600, and opened for worship in 1820. Joseph W. Henderson conducted the first service, standing upon a work-bench for a pulpit, and as the floor was not yet laid, the hearers sat upon the hewed sleepers, with their feet upon the ground. There was neither glass in the windows or fire in the house, and the day was uncomfortably cold. This building was completed and furnished with pews in the spring of 1831, and destroyed by fire a few days later, April 1st, 1831.

The congregation was organized, by order of the Redstone Presbytery, by Rev. Thomas Davis, August 1st, 1824, and John Robinson, John McKee and Wm. H. Wray were chosen Elders, and the two latter ordained, the former having served in Ebenezer congregation; and soon after Andrew Love, Esq., was added to the number. There is no record obtainable of names or number of constituents, probably forty members in all.

The first pastor was Rev. Joseph Harper, who served the church in conjunction with Warren (now Apollo) until 1829. The number of members at the close of his pastorate was about 100. Saltsburg, laid out in lots in 1816-17, by this time had twelve or fifteen houses. Of the 100 members of the church at the close of his pastorate there were but eight left in 1870, and we give the names; Elizabeth Robinson, Robert Henderson, Kezia White, Samuel Patton, Adam Robinson, William Lemon, Francis Love and John M. Robinson.

Rev. Watson Hughes, commenced his labors for the church soon after Rev. Harper left, and continued to serve the two congregations until 1838, when Warren was relinquished, and his time devoted to Saltsburg, serving it until 1845, when poor health and loss of voice caused him to sever the relation. The membership at the close of his labors was 219. The highest point his salary ever reached was $475, and the habit of those days was to fall below the amount pledged, so we learn that at the close of his labors, the church was owing him $500. During his pastorate, however, a substantial brick church was built 60x75 feet, but much time and money has been spent since in improvement, which has resulted in a very handsome and comfortable edifice, and beautiful surroundings.

Rev. W. W. Woodend, succeeded Rev. Hughes, in the pastorate, and was ordained and installed January 14, 1846, having served the church from April, 1845. During his ministry the growth has been steady, and we are indebted to his history of Saltsburg church, for most all the facts of this sketch, and from his reports we obtain the fact that up to 1870, during the twenty-five years of his ministry, 800 souls were received into the church, and with, decrease by death and removal, still numbered at that time 371, or net gain of 152. The average amount contributed to benevolent objects during that time, was $326 per annum.

Of the late events in this church, records have not been furnished us, but it is known that an unusual interest was manifested in 1876, and the accessions for that year alone must have reached over one hundred.

In addition to the labors of the church, the pastor served as Principal of Saltsburg Academy for seven years.

We note changes in the session:—Alex'r White was elected elder in 1834, and died October 21, 1842. William McIlwain and Samuel Patton, elected in 1840, and James Rhea and William Moore, July 22, 1849; Thomas McKee, May 23, 1852. James B. Robinson, James Rodgers, and Isaiah White, were ordained and installed, December 3, 1853; S. B. Mercer, James Ewing, Johnston Glass and Daniel Rhea, September 8, 1867.

John McKee, of first session, died August 18, 1849; Andrew Love, March 16, 1851, in his 67th year; W. H. Wray, dismissed April 24, 1854, to Ebenezer church, died January 1, 1869; John Robinson died April 25, 1856, aged 84 years.

Of those afterwards appointed, Isaiah White was killed in the battle of Spottsylvania, Va., May 10, 1864; James Rhea, died November 29, 1867.

GLADE RUN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH AND ACADEMY.

(Extract from historical sketch by Rev. G. W. Mecklin, D. D.)

The writer in a graphic description of the pioneers, says: "The most reliable information now obtainable is that Rev. Robert McGarragh preached the first sermon ever preached in this region, in Wm. Marshall's barn or house, in 1803." "He was threading his way by Indian trail or settler's 'blaze' to the wide wilderness beyond the Redbank river to fold and feed the Great Shepherd's sheep, scattered or scattering there. To reach this broad parish he must ford or swim the Kiskiminitas, Crooked creek, Plum creek, Mahoning, Redbank and Clarion rivers, often with no small risk of life. Over this route on pack horse he removed his family, soon after he first preached on the waters of Glade run."

"The savage war whoop had scarcely died away among these hills when Father McGarragh came to preach the gospel to the people here. * * * Each spring and autumn, for years, he passed back and forth through this neighborhood, and preached, as far as can now be learned at every visit. His appointments were marked by a pin placed at the date in the almanac in some families."

As early as 1804 there were at least four substantial Presbyterian families in this vicinity—James and William Kirkpatrick, William Marshall and William Shields. There may have been others. Out of these four families came the members that composed this church at its organization in 1808, by simply electing elders who were ordained by Mr. McGarragh." This date is fixed upon by recollection of Joseph Marshall, who died in 1859, nearly eighty years old; Hon. John Calhoun, who moved here in 1813, and William Kirkpatrick. There is no evidence to the contrary.

"James and Margaret Kirkpatrick, William and Mary Marshall, William and Martha Kirkpatrick, and William and Mary Shields were probably all the members at the organization, at least all whose names are now certainly known. It seems evident also that James Kirkpatrick and William Marshall were the elders ordained at the organization.

The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the plane was the humidity. It was a warm, sticky embrace that I had never experienced before. The air was thick with the scent of tropical flowers and the distant call of birds. I had heard that the weather in Hawaii was perfect, but I didn't realize how perfect it would be. The sun was shining brightly, and the palm trees swayed gently in the breeze. I felt a sense of peace and tranquility that I had never felt before. It was as if I had found a new world, a place where I could finally relax and enjoy life. I had heard that the people in Hawaii were friendly and welcoming, and I was not disappointed. John Henderson and Jane (Steele) Henderson

John Henderson and Jane Henderson bought and sold land in Venango Co PA (1826-1843). Have copies of the deeds. He signed his name as John Henderson Jr. Most probably, John M was their son (listed as 9 in the 1850 census when James was about 18). It appears that they had 2 sons named John, with one older than James. They moved to Ohio more than once (lived in Tunnel, Barlow and elsewhere unknown). In 1862 they bought 120A of land in Brown Co IN with a loan from William Sharp, also of Barlow, Ohio. Have copy of the mortgage. It appears this land was for their son John M who married Adeline Taylor in Brown Co in 1864. It appears that she was also from Ohio and, in addition, that John M may also have borrowed from Wm Sharp. The 120A was sold in 1874 by John M and Adeline. John's and Jane's daughter Amanda Henderson married in Brown Co in 1865. Also, a granddaughter Susan Henderson married in Brown Co in 1866. Have copies of the 3 marriage certificates. Their son William (my GGF) and wife Sarah Jane Spence Henderson lived in Brown Co from 1864 till 1874. Have copies of the deeds they took or conveyed. John M died and his estate was probated in May, 1876. Have copies of his estate records. I am still looking for where John and Jane Henderson died. William and Sarah moved to Christian Co IL and then to Bartholomew Co IN where they died in 1911 and 1910 respectively. Have copies of their death certificates. In 1864, while in Bellsville IN, William and William's oldest son John volunteered for Co. K. 29th Ind. Inf. and served about a year. Several of William's and Sarah's children lived and died in Columbus, Bartholomew CO IN. Any info you have on your GGGF (son James Henderson) might help me find where John and Jane died. They moved many times and repeatedly bought land. Most of this family lived into their 80's or 90's. Good genes.....

George HARMON ^{1 2 3 4}

Born: 5/30/1718, Wuerttemberg, , DEU

Marriage (2): Mary Margaret WILEY

Died: 1787, , Randolph, NC, USA at age 69

General Notes:

The George who wrote his will in the 1780's in Randolph Co., NC, though often, professed to be one of the 7 brothers that migrated south from PA, is more likely to be the following instead. According to John Scott Davenport, Ph.D. doing research in 1981, he is likely the Joahnn George Hermann, of Gruenwettersbach, Wuerttemberg, Germany who had a baptismal certificate copied on May 14, 1751 to qualify him for membership in his new church in America. On it, it stated that he was born on May 30, 1718, the son of Philipp Jacob and Elisabetha Catharina Hermann. His wife's maiden name was Christina Haug. Their children were Elisabetha, b. 18 Jan 1745 and Philipp Jacob, b. 6 Sep 1747. Johanne George Herman arrived on the "Phoenix", on Au 28, 1750. If this is one and the same person as above, he would have had time to send for the baptismal record above to enable him to become a member of a new church here in the colonies.

In any case, George, emigrated to Maryland. He was naturalized in Maryland on Sep. 14, 1763 which enabled him to have the benefits of English citizenship. He was listed as a member of the Lutheran Church at Silver Run of Pipe Creek, Frederick Co., MD in that record. He had to swear when he became a citizen that he had been in this country for at least 7 years.

He settled in what is now Randolph Co., NC sometime likely in the 1760's. He is often confused with a George Harmon who was one of the 7 brothers who moved into Moravian lands in what is now Davidson Co., NC in the 1750's.

His neighbors became his children's future spouses. He was bounded by Michael Fouts (a Mennonite) on the North and West. On the west, he was bounded by Jacob Stutzman, a Dunkard Minister. He, himself, was a strong Lutheran. He disowned his first born son for becoming a Dunkard. After his death, all of his children basically became Dunkards, Baptists or Mennonites.

He might possibly be the George who got a certificate of Naturalization in 1768. (Book 7, pg. 199, Rowan Co., NC) or the George Harmon whose livestock markings are listed in the Order books of

Wednesday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock occurred the death of Mrs. Gus Schoef one of the best known and respected ladies of this city at her home on south Thorne street after suffering for more than two and one-half years with a complication of diseases. to me

Hi Shirley,

I just looked at Stephany's file and realised I did not have Cai Christopher born 30 March.

Can you advise where born and is his Dad Thomas Alan Johns?

I have three other children for them is that correct, they are Colin David, Cole Weston, and Cameron Leigh

Yes our children make us feel old I am 82 in June, but that dose not seem to bother me, it's when I say Narelle is 60 that I feel peculiar.

Narelle is in China on a months holiday with a girl friend. They have been gone a week. Her email's so far have not been glowing stories I feel at this point she is somewhat dissatisfied with the sites. One site had been closed because of a volcano three months ago, and another site she spoke of, was in an off hand way. It could be that her thoughts were still back here worrying about her son Craig's family law court case which has been going on for nearly 18 months. It is a settlement of half of nothing, his wife has stripped him dry with her expenses and fraudulent ways with money. Unfortunately because she did everything in two names he is considered as bad as she is. However the case was on the 1st April and she cannot pass a lot of her debt onto him which is great news, but it will take him another 37 years to rebuild a life. He was earning big money working three weeks in Darwin and one week off and for the last 18 months his week off has been with us here. The judge kept telling her she was on oath but she lied about most things and wanted 80% of Craig's super. Craig was willing to give her 50% and that is what she has got. The judge kept saying I have to believe you for you are on oath, but what can they do unless somebody has enough proof of her habitual spending in both names. The police have a great deal of information and they are sitting waiting for her to make the wrong move. Her father is a millionaire and has

HENDERSONS SETTLE IN OLIVE HILL, KENTUCKY

Robert Henderson (Sr) was appointed Justice of the Peace and served from 1813 to 1816, becoming Judge of the Little Sandy precinct in 1817 and then the Big Sandy precinct in 1819. His son, Robert (II) was sheriff of Greenup County in 1825 and 1826, with William and James Ward as deputies.

James A. Henderson married Jane (Jennie) Miller on December 10, 1806, and through land grants and purchase obtained considerable land along what is now Henderson Branch in Olive Hill, extending to parts of Lewis County, to Trough Camp, down to Tygarts Creek.

The mode and route of travel in the migration down from the Pennsylvania area to where each of the five Henderson brothers settled were by water down the Ohio River to a point at the present Trinity, Kentucky, and Manchester, Ohio. Daniel Henderson and his wife, Rebekah, came from Pennsylvania and settled on Three Mile Creek, Sprigg Township (Manchester), Ohio Territory in 1797. Andrew Henderson and wife, Sarah, settled in present Lewis County on the East Fork of Cabin Creek, where on May 25, 1796 he bought from Jesse Ewell 216 acres of land to start. Brother Thomas came further down the creek and settled at Happy Hollow, near present Ribolt, Kentucky.

The method of land travel in the rugged wilderness was by using the ridges which afforded them a view of what lies ahead as well as being able to keep a closer watch for possible lurking Indians. Using the same ridge that his brothers had, George Henderson (Sr) also came to Olive Hill in late 1810 and settled in the spot that had been vacated by Robert at Camp ???. George died not long after his arrival and he had one son, George Washington Henderson, a veteran of the War of 1812, who married Mary Ann Miller on December 19, 1814, then received a land grant for his war service and moved in 1847 to St. Josephs, Missouri, where he died in 1850.

Many of the Hendersons and related lines served in the country's wars and some gave their lives. John Miller and Robert Henderson (Sr) were Revolutionary War veterans but records are seemingly non-existent since Robert did not apply for pension or grant as can be found. Roster files do show that he had served in the Pennsylvania Militia from Allegheny County, Pennsylvania.

In the name of God amen. I Hugh Henderson of Hempfield Township Westmoreland County & State of Pennsylvania being in good bodily health, and of sound and disposing mind memory and understanding but considering the certainty of death, and and uncertainty of the time thereof; and being desirous to settle my worldly affairs and thereby be the better prepared for the change, when it may please God to call me hence. Notes:

SALTSBURG PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The first Presbyterians in the vicinity of what is now Saltsburg came into this section shortly after the opening of a land office in 1769 for sale of these lands, but it is very difficult to obtain any definite information of the time of first preaching. There appears to have been preaching at Unity in 1766, with the exception of an occasional sermon in the new settlements, there does not appear a record of the establishment of a pastorate in what is now Indiana county till the call of Rev. Joseph Henderson to Ebenezer, and even that time is uncertain, yet we learn he took charge of that congregation in 1799. Of his labors, as well as those of the church, we give sketch elsewhere. Those living in the vicinity of the river in these years, and until 1824, worshiped with the congregations at Poke Run, Congruity, Salem or Ebenezer, and received their training under the ministry of Revs. Porter, McPherson, Henderson, Davis and Laird.

It was no uncommon thing in these early days for them to go several miles to divine service, carrying their rifles for protection, and remain for two discourses, returning home without having seen fire, for, as we have seen in the history of these early tents and log churches, there were no arrangements for fire. The first record we have of a distinct religious movement in the neighborhood was the organization of a little Sabbath school in the early part of the present century. The school was taught by Messrs. Robert and John Robinson, "and is believed to have been kept up until finally transferred to a little log schoolhouse at the end of the present railroad bridge." This little Sunday school and prayer meeting was the germ from which the present Sabbath school grew, and was probably one of the earliest movements of this kind in Western Pennsylvania."

A small stone building was erected at a cost of about $600, and opened for worship in 1820. Joseph W. Henderson conducted the first service, standing upon a work-bench for a pulpit, and as the floor was not yet laid, the hearers sat upon the hewed sleepers, with their feet upon the ground. There was neither glass in the windows or fire in the house, and the day was uncomfortably cold. This building was completed and furnished with pews in the spring of 1831, and destroyed by fire a few days later, April 1st, 1831.

The congregation was organized, by order of the Redstone Presbytery, by Rev. Thomas Davis, August 1st, 1824, and John Robinson, John McKee and Wm. H. Wray were those elders, and the two latter ordained, the former having served in Ebenezer congregation; and soon after Andrew Love, Esq., was added to the number. There is no record obtainable of names or number of constituents, probably forty members in all.

The first pastor was Rev. Joseph Harper, who served the church in conjunction with Warren (now Apollo) until 1829. The number of members at the close of his pastorate was about 100. Saltsburg, laid out lots in 1816-17, by this time had twelve or fifteen houses. Of the 100 members of the church at the close of his pastorate there were but eight left in 1870, and we give the names; Elizabeth Robinson, Robert Henderson, Kezia White, Samuel Patton, Adam Robinson, William Lemon, Francis Love and John M. Robinson.

Rev. Watson Hughes, commenced his labors of the church soon after Rev. Harper left, and continued to serve the two congregations until 1838, when Warren was relinquished, and his time devoted to Saltsburg, serving it until 1845, when poor health and loss of voice caused him to sever the relation. The membership at the close of his labors was 219. The highest point his salary ever reached was $475, and the habit of those days was to ball below the amount pledged, so we learn that at the close of his labors, the church was owing him $500. During his pastorate, however, a substantial brick church was built 60 x 75 feet, but much time and money was spent since in improvement, which has resulted in a very handsome and comfortable edifice, and beautiful surroundings.

Rev. W. W. Woodend, succeeded Rev. Hughes, in the Pastorate, and was ordained and installed January 14, 1846, having served the church from April, 1845. During his ministry the growth has been steady, and we are indebted to his history of Saltsburg church, for most all the facts of this sketch, and from his reports we obtain the fact that up to 1870, during the twenty-five years of his ministry, 800 souls were received into the church, and with decrease by death and removal, still numbered at that time 371, or net gain of 152. The average amount contributed to benevolent objects during that time, was $326 per annum.

Of the late events in this church, records have not been furnished us, but it is known that an unusual interest was manifested in 1876, and the accessions for that year alone must have reached over one hundred.

In addition to the labors of the church, the pastor served as Principal of Saltsburg Academy for several years.

Cherry Tree, Pennsylvania

A place to start

Cherry Tree, a small community of approximately 500 residents is situated in a valley along the West Branch of the Susquehanna River.

Cherry Tree was named for a huge wild black cherry tree that once stood on a point of land where Cush Cushion Creek joined the West Branch of the Susquehanna River. It was here that the river became too shallow for canoes to go further and hence the name "Canoe Place".

The English gained control of all territory east of Pittsburgh in 1758 and this allowed the Penn Family to purchase the western portion of Pennsylvania from the Six Nations Indians (Mohawk, Oneida, Onandaga, Cayuga, Seneca and the Tuscarora tribes). This land purchase took place on November 5, 1769 at Fort Stanwix, New York.

The upstream limit of this transaction on the West Branch was "Canoe Place" which was marked by the cherry tree. The down river corner of the purchase was near Pine Creek. The Purchase Line is the westward line starting at the cherry tree and extending to the Allegheny River. There is no historical evidence to support the claim that Native Americans and settlers walked this line. This part of the Treaty of 1768, The Treaty of Fort Stanwix, is often confused with a treaty covering lands near the Delaware River in Eastern Pennsylvania known as the "walking purchase".

In 1799, the Penn heirs sold all of their interests in Penn's Woods to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for $500,000.00. In 1804 the Commonwealth created the counties of Cambria, Clearfield and Indiana, all cornering on the cherry tree at "Canoe Place". In the spring of 1836, the old cherry tree, its roots exposed from years of living on a riverbank, was uprooted and washed away. It rested for sometime downstream in the Susquehanna River across from where Bee Brother's mill once stood. Another rainy season caused the tree to be washed further downstream.

In 1822, John Bartlebaugh and his wife Anne became the first permanent white settlers in what is now Cherry Tree. He built his log house, across the river, about 600 ft. from the tree on what is now the back of the Fireman's parking lot. The first recorded child born in Cherry Tree was Abner Bartlebaugh in 1830. Peter Gordon, the hunter followed the Bartlebaughs. The portion of Cherry Tree east of the river, a part of Clearfield and Cambria Counties, was plotted by Isaiah Bartlebaugh in 1839 and was named New Lancaster, owing to the resemblance of the soil to his Lancaster County home. The part of the town west of the river in Indiana County was plotted by Heth F. Camp in 1844 and was named Campville.

Also in the year 1822, Richard Smith, settled along Cush Cushion Creek about 5 miles from the tree. Mr. Smith was known throughout Western Pa. as Richard Smith, Quaker Smith and Trader Smith. He became interested in establishing post offices and post roads throughout this part of the commonwealth. There is little doubt he used his influence to have the Bardsville office established in 1830, with Richard Bard as postmaster. The office was located in Clearfield County near the present day railroad yards.

In the spring of 1826, William Sebring erected a frame gristmill in 1827, and in 1828 he built a sawmill a short distance from the gristmill. In 1833 Mr. Sebring sold his mill to Peter Newman and that same year the Post Office was moved to the Newman property in Indiana County. The name was changed to Newman's Mills with Peter Newman as Postmaster. Mr. James Mehaffey was the next proprietor of the mill, and he sold the property to the McKeages of Clinton County in 1847. The Cherry Tree gristmill was erected in 1847; it was 38 X 50 ft., 3 stories high and had three runs of burrs (no doubt these were the stone grinding portions of the mill because a stone burr is the best for grinding wheat to flour). Its motive power was an overshot wheel 10 ft. wide and 12 ft. in diameter. The McKeage saw mill was built in 1864.

Following the sale of the Newman property, the Post Office was moved to the Campville side of the river. During this time postmasters were the spoils of political war. Mr. E.B. Camp, a stalwart Republican, was in charge of the Newman's Mills office during General Grant's term as President. He petitioned the Postmaster General to have the name changed from Newman's mills to Grant in 1867. The next 40 years, the mail carried the following addresses "Cherry Tree, Grant Post Office, Pennsylvania" to be changed to Cherry Tree, Pa in 1907.

In 1826, William Eason settled in Cherry Tree. He was a wheelwright by trade, but his business here was framing and lumbering. Other settlers arriving in 1826 were Reeder King, John Armstrong, Samuel Hazlett, Jacob and Peter Stiffler, Peter Lelsell, Barnabas Douglas, Berringer, Pitmans, Cornelius Gailey, John Notely, Joseph Frits, Samuel Ranck, and George Cannon.

Reeder (also spelled Reader) King married Mary McCreery, and the following children were born to them: George, John, Edward, Nancy, wife of William Dunlap; Mary Ann, married (first) Joseph Wetmore, (Second) Thomas Crossman and (third) John Mannion; Eliott, Charles, Newman and Elizabeth, who died at twenty years of age. Edward, son of Reader and Mary, was born, October 14, 1821, and was all his life a farmer and lumberman in Clearfield County.

KING - November 8, 1853, a Mr. Mannion wedded Mary Ann King, who is a daughter of Reader King and Mary McCreery, of Cherry tree, Indiana county, and was born June 6, 1822. To this union were born four sons and one daughter: Martin, now farming in Clearfield township; Edward and John, farmers of Susquehanna township; Andrew, at home; and Jane, wife of Christopher Crossman, a farmer of Chest Springs, this county.

King's brother-in-law, Edward McCreery, came in 1826 and settled near Pine Grove, adjoining Mr. King's. His sons were tall, and good marksmen and hunters. The oldest was Joseph McCreery. (Soon you will discover that this was 'Cherry Tree Joe.')

Since the Cherry Tree area was primarily a lumber area most of the settlers dealt with the lumber industry and taking large logs down river to processing areas. Josiah Woodford and Reeder King ran, in 1827 the first raft down river from Cherry Tree section. John King was one of the hands on the raft that was 100' long and 16' wide. George Atchinson and Shacklerx launched the second raft in 1828. This one fell to pieces after running one day. In 1829, William Mehaffey and his sons, William Jr., John and Thomas, ran a raft from the cherry tree and it took them seven days getting to Curwensville. The raft consisted of 7 pieces, each piece being 100' long and 18' wide. The next raft down the river in 1829 was that of John Bartlebaugh. In the same year Goerge Atchinson, Daniel Ullery and Harry Darr ran another raft. So you can tell that there were quite a few rafts being started from the area over the years.

Joseph Williams had the first store, in 1833, in a log cabin building that was situated above the gristmill. Joseph McMurray succeeded him in 1835 and Joseph continued for about one and a half years. Heth F. Camp established the next store in 1840 that was situated near the present Presbyterian Church. He continued in business until his death in 1849 after which he was succeeded by his son, E.B. Camp. The Camp family operated this store until 1900. David R. Kinports, Elijah Criswell, B.F. Pitts, L.M. Clark, Absolom Harter, R.C. McCurdy, William T. Mahaffey and J. Buterbaugh opened successive stores in Cherry Tree. Mr. Buterbaugh sold his store that was in the I.O.O.F. building to R.H. Dunlap. Mr. Dunlap eventually bought the building and operated his store for 54 years, from 1923 until 1977. This store is currently owned and operated by Bob and Norma Fye.

with mercantile establishments in Eastern North Carolina. Through his extensive business affiliations with the Scotch merchants at Cross-Creek, afterwards Fayetteville, Johnston was able to negotiate the purchase of the vast quantity of goods for the treaty at Sycamore Shoals. The bonds for the various bills of supplies were underwritten by the partners of the Transylvania Company.

Another bold adventurer, who threw in his lot with the fortunes of the land company, was John Lattrell of Chatham County, North Carolina, the husband of Susanna, only daughter of John Hart, brother of Thomas, David and Nathaniel. He had served as clerk of the crown in Hillsborough in 1770, and later won laurels as a soldier in the Revolution. "Lieutenant Colonel Lattrell," records a contemporary, "was a man of fiery courage, active, enterprising and firmly attached to the cause of his country." A half-share in the company, or one-sixteenth part of the whole, was taken by one of Judge Henderson's neighbors on Nutbush, whose family had removed from Hanover County, Virginia, to Granville County, North Carolina, shortly after 1752. This was Leonard Henley Bullock, sometime High Sheriff of Granville County and brother of Agnes, widow of George Keeling, who was subsequently married to Judge John Williams.

Judge Henderson had studied with care the entire situation for years. The operations of the Vandalia Company, the terms of the successive treaties with the Indians, the demarkation of the final boundary line run by Col. John Donelson in 1772 were known to him. Through correspondence with legal authorities in England, he had become possessed of the legal opinion rendered by Councillor Charles Yorke in 1769 or earlier, to the effect that purchases from the Indians by individuals were legal, the right of eminent domain remaining vested in the crown. By the year 1774 all bars, legal and governmental, to the purchase of the Tennessee and Kentucky areas had been removed. By the Treaty of Lochaber in 1770, and the additional negotiations, ending in the running of Donelson's line in 1772, Virginia had confirmed to the Cherokees their right to the vast territory lying to the west of the boundary line. This boundary line, accurately delineated for the first time in any history in the author's "The Conquest of the Old Southwest," ran as follows at the back of North Carolina and Virginia: Beginning at Tryon Mountain on the South Carolina boundary, running straight in the direction of Chiswell's Mine until it crossed the North Carolina-Virginia boundary line, thence due west to a point six miles east of Long Island of Holston, thence in a straight line in the direction of the confluence of the Ohio and Great Kanawha Rivers until

Strategies for Searching on Newspapers.com

Searching for names and keywords in newspapers can be challenging, especially when you're looking for someone whose name is the same as a prolific noun or verb in the English language. Surnames like Rose, Wells, Fudge, and Burns are tricky to separate from their everyday usage when you're looking for people, not words, in newspaper articles.

Understanding the quirks of how typed text is indexed through Optical Character Recognition (OCR)*, may help you in your searches on Newspapers.com. You'll soon develop unique strategies for getting the results you want.

Whether you search directly from the search box on the homepage or click the "Search" link at the top of most pages, adding fields for dates and a location will narrow your search results. You can also make use of quotation marks to keep two or more words next to each other in the results. For example, a search for Henry Fudge brings 65,731 matches, while "Henry Fudge" yields 37. Results for Rose Allen exceed 1.5 million, while "Rose Allen" provides a much more manageable 1,770 matches.

An 18-year-old Pennsylvania socialite named Rose Allen made headline news across the nation in 1931-32 when her brother allegedly murdered her sweetheart. If the Rose Allen we seek is a different woman, we'll want to narrow our search by time period and place to filter out all the results that pop up from the brother's murder trial and Rose's testimony. Use the date and location filters on the left of the search results page, add an additional search term outside of the quotation marks (try a profession, relative's name, or event title), or even confine your search to a specific newspaper under "Narrow by Newspapers." Reducing the matches and further adjusting your search filters will ultimately lead you to the news you're looking for if it's available.

Once you create a specific search sequence that works for you, save it as a clipping by

He married Susan, daughter of Solomon Fink, of Armstrong county, and their children were: Reuben E., mentioned hereafter; Sherman, a miner at Hillville, Pennsylvania; John, Mack, Harry, Rose, widow of Horace Curtis; Hattie, Katie, Annie and Emma. All the sons, with the exception of Sherman, are residents of New Kensington and all the daughters are at home.

Reuben E. Henderson, son of William E. and Susan (Fink) Henderson, was born January 4, 1875, at South Bend, and received his education in the common schools of his native county. At the age of eighteen he began life for himself by working in a mill, and in 1893 went to New Kensington,

Henderson - Ancestry 1

One of the earliest known Scotch-Irish ancestors of this branch of the Henderson Clan is John Robert Henderson (1740 - 1813) - Ancestry 1 - born in County Tyrone, Ireland. (Some family trees of Ancestry.com show Robert Henderson married to Margaret McFate and they were the parents of eight children; in other family trees, these children are listed with Mary Ann Ralston as their mother.) My analysis indicates: John Robert Henderson was married about 1758 to Margaret McFate (abt 1740 - abt 1770?) and this couple had at least one child, Robert Henderson (1758 - 1837); then, after Margaret McFate died about 1770, John Robert Henderson married Mary Ann Ralston (abt 1750 - abt 1820) and this couple had eleven children; they lived in Ireland until about 1796 or 1797, when many members of this extended Henderson family moved to Liverpool or Londonberry, England to prepare to move to America (which they did between 1796 and 1804). John Robert Henderson (1740 - 1813) and his first wife, Margaret McFate, were the parents of: Robert Henderson (1758 - 1837). Then, John Robert Henderson (1740 - 1813) and his second wife, Mary Ann Ralston (1750 - 1820) were the parents of: John Henderson (1774 - 1844); David Andrew Henderson (1775 - 1825); Martha Henderson (1776 - 1790); James Henderson (1778 -): and. Joseph Henderson (1780 - 1844; Robert Henderson (1782 - 1871); Alexander Henderson (1784 - 1844); Jane Henderson (1785 - 1860); Isabella Henderson (1790 -); Lucy Henderson (1792 -); and David Henderson (1797 - 1860). The eldest son of John Robert Henderson (1740 - 1813) - Robert Henderson (1758 - 1837) emigrated with his wife and ten children, born in Ireland, and settled in Coshocton County, Ohio. The other children of John Robert Henderson and Mary Ann Henderson nee Ralston came to America in 1796 through 1804 and settled in Indiana County, Pennsylvania.

Robert and Mary (Mary Ann Ralston) Henderson were Ulster Scots who were born sometime in the mid-1700's, in Northern Ireland, probably in Tyrone County. A family history at least indicates that Tyrone County was their home before emigrating to the United States. Almost nothing about their life in Ireland is known. They raised a family of six boys and three girls. Probably all of them were born in Ireland. According to tradition handed down through the generations, Robert took part in the Irish rebellions before coming to America. If true, Robert Henderson was possibly a member of the Society of United Irishmen, a organization that united Presbyterian dissenters in Ulster with Catholics from the south in a struggle for an independent Ireland. Inspired by the revolutionary and republican principles of the American and French Revolutions, the group was founded by Wolfe Tone in 1791. There was plenty of political ferment while the Hendersons were still in Ireland, but it was only after the Henderson family had come to America, that the Irish Rebellion of 1798 broke out. In one of the most violent and bloody wars in Irish history, as many as 30,000 men, women, and children may have been killed in the course of about three months. Rebels who were caught but not executed were deported to Australia, but there is no indication that the Hendersons left involuntarily because of Robert Henderson's involvement in rebellious activities. In a quirk of history, members of a later generation of Hendersons lived in the Vinegar Hill section of Indiana, Pa., and that hill may have been named after the site of one of the last battles of the Rebellion of 1798.

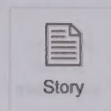

The Hendersons were probably members of the Seceders (Associate Presbyterian Church). This speculation is made based on the fact that the next generation of Henderson did not attend the Covenanter Church which was the closest Presbyterian church to them, but helped found the West Union church, which was affiliated with the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church (which in 1782 was formed to combine the Seceders and Covenanters).

The History of Indiana County, PA, 1745-1880, published by J. A. Caldwell, Newark, OH, 1880, lists the names of their nine children. Unfortunately, it provides no dates and lists first the boys and then the girls, so even their birth order is uncertain.

No written documentation has been found to indicate from where or when the Henderson family left Ireland or whether or not they all came at the same time. Family tradition, however, tells that the family left together from Londonderry, spent sixteen weeks crossing the Atlantic, and landed in Philadelphia probably in 1796 or 1797. Since we know that Robert and his son Alexander were naturalized as citizens, the family could not have arrived before March 4, 1789, the date that the United States Constitution took effect. Information provided in Caldwell's History of Indiana County (1880) is inexact: "Alexander Henderson was a son of Robert and Mary, nee Ralston, natives of Ireland, who settled about 1796 on what is now the Frank Cribbs farm, Young Township." Records provided by Harry Danner Henderson of Potosi, WI (original source unknown) indicate that two of Robert and Mary's sons, John and Robert, Jr., sailed to America on March 26, 1797, the day after John married Letitia Fullerton,

Henderson Ancestry - Scotch-Irish Heritage

The Scotch-Irish ancestry of our branch of the Henderson family probably has roots among Scots-men and Scots-women, most of whom were of the Presbyterian faith, who were recruited by the English and brought from Scotland to northern Ireland. Their mission, between 1594 and 1603, was to replace the native Irish Catholics who lived there. Land was granted to English overlords who recruited settlers and tenant farmers from Scotland to live in northern Ireland. In 1611, the British Crown designated the six counties of northern Ireland - including County Tyrone, as the plantation of Ulster. After about one century, the Scotch-Irish in Ulster began to suffer civil, economic and religious discrimination by the British. By 1710, most of the farm leases granted to the Scots in the early 1600s expired and new leases were withheld. The Scotch-Irish either had to pay increased rents or they had to leave the land, when the leases for their farms expired. These conditions caused thousands of Scotch-Irish to leave northern Ireland. Also, a drought in 1714 sparked an even greater migration from Ulster. The exodus of many Scotch-Irish began in the early to mid-18th century. Our ancestors probably were in this group.

Handerson Ancestry - Scotch-Irish Heritage

The Scotch-Irish ancestry of our family is an interesting family probably first with strong Scotch-Irish roots. Many of the early settlers of the Scotch-Irish were brought to the colonies by the English and brought from Scotland to various islands. Their mission between 1700 and 1707 was to replace the native Indians who had been killed and was granted by English overlords and recruited settlers and tenant farmers from Scotland to live in various islands. In 1711, the British Crown designated the six counties of northern Ireland - including County Tyrone, as the plantation of Ulster. After about one century, the Scotch-Irish in Ulster began to suffer the economic and religious discrimination by the British. By 1770, most of the land had been granted to the British in the early 1700s and new waves were migrating. The Scotch-Irish then had to pay increased rents to the British and were forced to leave for their own lands. These waves of Scotch-Irish migration from Ulster to the United States began in the mid-18th century. Our family is from the Scotch-Irish.

and settled in Conemaugh Township (Saltsburg area of Indiana County). A confused record in The History of Marion County Ohio (1883), indicates that David Henderson, [oldest son of Robert and Mary Ann], and his wife, Elizabeth (Orr) Henderson, "natives of County Tyrone, Ireland, ... emigrated to America in 1791, settling at Shippensburg, Penn., early pioneers. Later, they came to Clarksburg, Ind[iana County, Penn.], remaining a number years, thence came to Marion County, but he died in Delaware, Ohio, in 1834, aged eighty-seven years." Researchers Scott & Kathryn Ives point out that David's dates are probably wrong, since if the Marion History is accurate, he would be a quarter of a century older than the next of his siblings. If the birth date is wrong, the emigration date must also be held in question. However, if either of these two latter accounts is accurate, members of the Henderson family might have traveled across the Atlantic separately over the course of a decade.

The Hendersons were not Indian-fighting frontier settlers. They came toward the end of the wave of the great Scotch Irish migration to America, and they were part of the migration to Western Pennsylvania that occurred after the end of Indian/settler hostilities. Mad Anthony Wayne's troops decisive victory against the Iroquois at the Battle of Fallen Timbers (August 1794) led to the signing of the Treaty of Canandaigua and the Treaty of Greenville (both 1795). These treaties opened up a region which included all of western Pennsylvania to settlement without the threat of Indian resistance.

We have almost no information about the Henderson family's journey to America and what it did before it settled in what is now Indiana County. If the Hendersons followed the usual pattern of settlers at that time, they would have made the move for western Pennsylvania very shortly after the family arrived in the country. The family would have traveled along the public roads, using a wagon. The route they likely would have followed was not far removed from the Pennsylvania Turnpike today. The road went from Philadelphia to Lancaster, through Gettysburg, down into Maryland, and back into Pittsburgh. The Hendersons, without much doubt, would have bought their land from a land company. Land speculators had long before purchased rights to the lands that had been provided to soldiers after the Revolutionary War in lieu of other payment. Now that the land was free of Indian claims and hostilities, the land market became very profitable. Most likely, the Hendersons would have dealt with a land merchant and outfitter in Pittsburgh to acquire the deed and goods to settle it.

The next date in the life of Robert Henderson that is recorded is September, 1809, when he was naturalized as a citizen. Robert died in either 1813 or 1814. The date of Mary Ralston Henderson's death is not recorded. For many years the location of the actual gravesites of Robert and Mary Henderson were unknown. Information provided by Harry Danner Henderson, which at this writing has not been verified, indicates that Robert and Mary were buried in the graveyard of Old Congruity Church, about twelve miles from Saltsburg, across the river in what is now Westmoreland County. Evidence supporting this idea is that the Old Congruity Church was founded as an Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church, and there was no other Associate Reformed Church in the area until the West Union Associate Reform Church was founded (in part by members of the Henderson family).

SAMUEL HENDERSON was born in 1817 in Armstrong township, and was the son of Brice and Susannah Henderson, nee Thomas, daughter of Israel Thomas. The former died in 1836 at the age of forty-four; the latter in 1825. Brice Henderson was the son of Samuel, an early settler of the county. His wife was a Wiggins. Their Children were: Brice, m. as above; Elizabeth, d., m. to Samuel Lucas; Samuel, d., m. to Elizabeth Lytle, d.; and John, d., m. to Nancy Wiggins, d. Brice Henderson's children were: Samuel, m. in 1846 to Sarah Ann Beers; Margaret, m. to Robert Sharp; and Nancy, m. to Geo. Adamson. Samuel's (a son of Brice Henderson) children were: Emma, d.; William, m. to Sarah Clark; Brice, m. to Lovey Ann Fry; Newton, d.; John, m. to Cassie A. Smith; Elder, d. Thomas, d.; and Frank, d. The children of John, a son of Samuel Henderson, were: Samuel S. and Emma M. The Hendersons are of Scotch-Irish descent. Our subject's wife is of German descent. The Beers settled in Northampton county, and from thence migrated to Clarion County.

ROBERT HENDERSON was born on the farm now occupied by his son, Joseph H. Henderson, in 1811, and was a son of Alexander (a native of Ireland) and Hannah Henderson nee Thorn. The former died in 1844, about sixty years of age, and the latter in the same year about sixty-five years of age. Alexander Henderson was a son of Robert and Mary Henderson nee Ralston, natives of Ireland, who settled about 1796 on what is now the Frank Cribbs farm, Young township. (See sketch of David Henderson, Saltsburg.) Alexander's children were: Mary, d., m. to John Robertson; Robert, d. in 1852, m. to Martha Henderson, b. in 1807; Matilda, d., m. to Samuel McLaughlin, d.; and Margaret Jane, m. to John Rosborough. Our subject's children were: Robert Alexander, d.; John, m. to Hadessa Wright; James Wilson, d.; James Ralston, and Joseph H., m. to Prudence J. Telford. Robert A. was in company A, 1st Kansas cavalry for about two months, and was killed at Little Blue creek, Johnson county, Missouri. John was in company D, 62d Pennsylvania volunteers for three years and was wounded three times. The children of Joseph H, a son of our subject, were: Martha Mabel, Mary Hadessa, and Cree Telford.

BETHEL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, CENTRE TOWNSHIP

The origin of this church dates back to about the year 1790. The first substantial building was erected in 1797. This was succeeded by a large frame structure which was finished in 1842. This house having undergone repairs at different times, is still occupied.

The first settled pastor was Rev. J. W. Henderson, whose labors commenced in 1798, and continued until 1823. His successors have been: Rev. Jesse Smith, eight years; Rev. Robert Johnston, about eight years; Rev. John Cross, 1845 to 1850; Rev. Franklin Orr, 1953 to 1877; and Rev. John Gourley, the present pastor.

The communion service used by this congregation, is so old that the time of its introduction cannot now be ascertained.

In some stray notes furnished to the press some years ago,* we glean the following: "Bethel Church is situated seven miles southwest of Indiana, and was the first Presbyterian church in the county. The first house was built of logs, and no doubt some of our older readers remember the old building with nothing but benches, with no backs, on which to sit; and also the immense ten plate stoves for heating the church.

"It was during the ministry of Rev. Henderson that the temperance question was first agitated. At that time it was the custom for almost everyone to indulge in spirituous liquors, and especially at log rollings, raisings, etc. The result was that it was nothing uncommon for the greater part of the crowd to become badly intoxicated.

"Mr. Henderson saw the evil of drunkenness and preached a sermon on the subject. At the close he called upon all that were willing to sign the pledge to come forward. Five persons did so, their names being: Major Loughrey, James Todd, James Hunter, Alexander McMullen, and Joseph Campbell; Judge Campbell was the last survivor, and he died in the spring of 1879.

"This was the beginning of the temperance agitation which has not yet ceased. All the early meetings were held here or in the vicinity. Looking back over the past years, one cannot help but contrast the public sentiment of 1880 with that of 1798 to 1823.

"During the ministry of Mr. Johnston, the present building was erected. In the latter part of the ministry of Mr. Orr, the house was thoroughly repaired and refurnished.

EBENEZER PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, CONEMAUGH COUNTY.

There is but little known of the early history of this church, and notes of its progress we shall quote largely from the historical sermon preached by its pastor, Rev. D. J. Irwin, July, 1876, who in prefatory remarks, says, "we must rely largely upon tradition for the early history of the church."

"The church was organized about 1790 or 1791, and in connection with Bethel, formed a pastoral charge." It is not known by whom organized, but Rev. Marquis preached for the congregation in 1793, but how often, or how long a time is not known.

The first elders of whom we have any account were Patrick Jack, S. Coulter, John Marshall and John Robinson, and the first record of membership we have any account of was made in 1832, over forty years after its organization; and of this list of 165 names, there were but nine remaining in fellowship in 1876, viz: "Mrs. Nancy Marshall, Mrs. Rebecca Kerr, Mr. Leslie Hazlett, sen., Mrs. Mary Jack, Mr. Robert Ewing, Mrs. Elizabeth Ewing, Mrs. Margaret Elrick, Mr. John Barclay and Martha Ewing." Of the 31 members received during the same year there remained in 1876 but Messrs. "Tobias Bricker, Isaac Keenor and Mrs. Dorcas Irwin." To these two lists may be added Mr. Thomas Anderson, sen., Mrs. Rebecca Rosborough and Mrs. Polly Elder of the present Clarksburg church, and Mr. Samuel Nesbit and Mrs. Jane Nesbit of the Livermore church.

In addition to the three elders first named we name others now dead or removed to other churches, viz: James Marshall, James Coulter, John Douglas, John Ewing, Samuel Marshall, William Leard, John G. Thompson, James Tulton (or Fulton), William Conney, William Moore, John Miller, John McCurdy, and William Wray. The present session (1876), John Barclay, Robert Ewing, Samuel G. Miller, Tobias Bricker, Francis Harbison, James Jack, Robert Wray, R. E. Laird, S. P. Marshall, and James Barclay.

It is not settled whether the congregation has any settled pastor till Re. Joseph Henderson settled within its bounds. He "probably preached here first in 1797, and in 1799 became settled pastor." We give a sketch of this good man in sketches of the pioneers of the county. He served the church until 1824. Rev. Jesse R. Smith succeeded Rev. Henderson and served the church four years.

In 1832 Rev. David Lewis, a native of North Wales, became pastor, and served the church until his death, December 9th, 1844. Of this man, Dr. Donaldson says: "He with the writer had made arrangements for alternately preaching once in two weeks in the village of Clarksburg, on the contiguous border of our charges. On the first evening, December 8th, 1844, both were to be present, but a member of his session from the village failing on that day to attend church, he said 'if it is too far for the elder to come in daylight, it is too far for the pastor to go at night.' so he stayed at home and preached a tender stirring sermon, and by daylight the next morning 'he was not, for God took him.' " During Rev. Lewis' pastorate Watt's version of the Psalms was introduced instead of Rouse's, creating some dissatisfaction, and some withdrew from the congregation on account of this "innovation."

Rev. John Cross, succeeded to the pastorate after the death of Rev. Lewis, and remained till 1850, and in 1851, Rev. George Morton, became pastor, but by his own request was relieved in 1854; however, he was induced to remain, and in 1855, was again settled as pastor, serving till 1859, when he was dismissed by his own request.

On the 11th of April, 1861, Rev. D. J. Irwin, was called to the pastorate "and on June 19th, 1861, was ordained and installed pastor by the Presbytery of Saltsburg."

"The first place of preaching was a tent of rough boards used only on wet and stormy days;" when fair, the services were held in the grove. "The first house of worship was about twenty-five feet square and was built of hewed logs, the seats of split logs, and had neither fire place or stove." The second house was an improvement only in the point of size, and a loose board floor, "and for several winters had neither stove or fire place." These people "walked to the church and listened to the sermon without any fire in the house." The next building was of brick; size 65 by 45 feet. The building now occupied was erected during the years 1870 and 1871, at a cost of probably $8,500, (this was the contract price), and the material in old building. It is two stories, 68 by 48 feet, and in comfort "is surpassed by few country churches."

The membership had increased to 220 in 1876.

A Sabbath school was organized in 1820 – was suspended for a few years, but another organized in 1830, continuing to the present, and its members now number considerably over one hundred.

NOTES ON SOME OF THE MEMBERS OF THE BAR IN THE PAST.

DANIEL STANARD, ESQ., was the first resident lawyer who located permanently at Indiana. He was a native of Vermont, and came here, a young lawyer, in 1807. He was over six feet in height, erect, and of commanding presence. His fine appearance would arrest attention anywhere. Although his early education was limited, by study and application he became a man of more than ordinary intelligence on most subjects. He was a successful practitioner of the law up till 1836, when he retired from active practice, and died March 4, 1867, at the age of eighty-five years.

JAMES M. KELLY, ESQ., was a native of Indiana county, son of James Kelly, one of the early settlers of the county. At an early day the attention of George Armstrong, Esq., a lawyer of Greensburg, Pennsylvania, who attended the courts at Indiana, was arrested by the sprightliness of young Kelly and his skill as a performer of the violin. Armstrong, who was without children, induced Kelly to go to Greensburg and become a member of his family, where he assisted him in obtaining an education and in the study of the law. Upon being admitted to the bar, he returned to Indiana and engaged in the practice of the law, where he has a brilliant, but brief career. He was tall, slender, graceful, and most winning in his ways. He was bright, and took the hearts of the people by storm. Although a member of the minority party, a Federalist, he was irresistible as a candidate, and was triumphantly elected to the State Legislature, in a strong Democratic district. In 1820, he visited Cuba, in company with Dr. Robert Mitchell, for the benefit of his health, but consumption had marked him for her own, and soon after his return home, in the same year, he breathed his last, aged thirty-five years.

THOMAS WHITE, ESQ., studied law in the office of Wm. Rawle, Esq., in Philadelphia, and in 1821, commenced the practice of law at Indiana. He was then aged about twenty-one years, and was very soon in successful practice. He was also agent of Geo. Clymer, who owned a large quantity of land in Indiana county. From 1836 till 1846, he presided over our county with distinguished ability. Early in the rebellion he served as one of the commissioners on what was called the "Penn convention." Which met at Washington city. He was of medium size, in manner affable and polite, but dignified. Although reared in the city, he took a decided interest in agriculture. He was one of the main projectors and supporters of the Indiana county Agriculture Society, among the most successful societies of the kind in the State, and was the president of the society from its origin till his death. He devoted considerable time to agricultural pursuits, the raising of sheep, blooded cattle, &c. Most undoubtedly Indiana county is greatly indebted to him for her improved stock and modes of farming. Judge White died on the 23d day of July, 1866, aged sixty-seven years.

EPHRAM CARPENTER, ESQ., was of New England birth, having been born at Sharon, Vermont, August 10, 1788. When a young man he taught in the Academy at Greensburg, Pennsylvania, and there studied law. He commenced the practice of law at Indiana in 1819, and remained there till his death, June 10, 1860, (at the age of seventy years). For many years he was deputy attorney general for Indiana and adjacent counties. He was exceeding particular and precise in his business habits, and made an excellent prosecuting officer.

AUGUSTUS DRUM, ESQ., was a son of Simon Drum, Esq., of Greensburg, Pa., and was educated at Jefferson College, Pennsylvania, he studied law under John B. Alexander, Esq., at Greensburg, and located in Indiana, in 1831. He was a successful lawyer, and a gentleman of pleasant, social qualities and fine literary taste. He was a member of the Democratic party, and took a decided part in politics, and to some extent was a newspaper writer. He served in the State Senate and in Congress. He died on the seventeenth day of September, 1858, aged 43 years.

WILLIAM BANKS, ESQ., was a native of Mifflin county, Pennsylvania, and studied law in the office of his brother, Hon. Jno. Banks, at Mercer, Pennsylvania. He commenced the practice of law in Indiana, in 1826, and for many years was a leading member of the bar. He was naturally sensitive and diffident, and only commenced to argue cases before the jury when circumstances compelled him. He became a forcible advocate, concise, to the point, and sometimes eloquent. He was fond of scientific studies, and was very conversant with the scriptures. He filled the offices of Deputy Attorney General, Prothonotary and member of the Legislature. After serving in the legislature, he totally abjured holding public office. He died on the 10th day of August, 1871, aged 76 years.

REV. JOSEPH W. HENDERSON, – The Rev. Joseph Washington Henderson, was a native of Franklin county, Pennsylvania. He graduated at the college of New Jersey, in 1776, and was licensed by the Presbytery of Donegal, June 16th, 1779. On the 20th of October following, he received a call from the congregation of Hanover, which he declined. Another call was presented to him on the 21st of June, 1780, from the congregation of Conewago; and again, on the 17th of October, of the same year, he received a call from the united congregation of East Fennsborough and Monaghan.

In each of these calls, the salary promised was to be paid in wheat. He accepted the call from Conewage, and was ordained and installed their pastor, June 20th, 1781. When the Presbytery of Carlisle was erected in 1786, he was one of its original members. On the 15th of April, 1795, in consequence of his congregation failing to meet their engagements with regard to salary, he asked leave to resign his pastoral charge.

With a view to ascertain the facts, the Presbytery appointed a committee consisting of Messrs. Black and Paxton, upon the report of which committee, his request for the dissolution of his connection with the congregation was granted. Shortly after this, having obtained leave from the Presbytery, he traveled Westward, as far as Kentucky, where he labored for some time.

On his return, he preached one or two Sabbaths in the congregations of Bethel and Ebenezer, within the bounds of the Presbytery of Redstone, but without any view to settlement, as his purpose was to settle in Kentucky. Having reached his home in York county, he made application at the next meeting of the Presbytery of Carlisle, and received a dismission on the 11th of April, 1798, to connect with that of Redstone, and about the same time set out with his family for the west.

On his arrival in Westmoreland county, he stopped in the congregations of Bethel and Ebenezer, where he had preached on his journey eastward. So urgent were the people of these congregations that he should remain with them, he consented to supply them for a year. Before the close of the year, a call was presented and put into his hands on the 9th of April, 1799, at the same meeting of the Presbytery of Redstone at which he was received as a member. Of this call he declared his acceptance, and became the settled pastor of these churches, although he was never formally installed.

At the time of his settlement, he was the only Presbyterian minister in that part of Westmoreland, which is now included in Indiana county. His charge was extensive, and the country being new, he was often subjected to much exposure, and had to endure many hardships in the fulfillment of his pastoral duties. But, although his constitution was weak and his health delicate, by a rigid attention to the rules of temperance, he was enabled, by the grace of God, to labor successfully among the people of his charge for more than twenty-five years. He was finally obliged, however, at the expiration of that period, and about twelve years before his death, to relinquish his connection with the people of his pastoral charge, in consequence of the loss of his voice, by which he was disabled from preaching. When the Presbytery of Blairsville was erected by the Synod in 1830, he was one of its original members.

He died at his residence in Center township, near Bethel church, on the 19th of September, 1836, in the eighty-fourth year of his age.

The following extract from the obituary notice of him – written, as we have been informed, by the Rev. Robert Johnston, – will show the estimation in which he was held by those most familiar with his character and attainments.

“The general opinion of those who were accustomed to hear his was, that his principal excellence appeared in the pulpit. Everything like ostentation or display, he despised. Perspicuity, simplicity, precision and comprehension of thought, were the general characteristics of his sermons. His style and method are said, by those qualified to judge, very much to have resembled those of Dr. Witherspoon, under whose instructions his habits of thinking and writing had never been formed.

As a man, whether at home or abroad, he was in a high degree companionable, easy of access, amiable in his disposition, a pattern of politeness, cheerful without levity, and always instructive in conversation. In a word, his general deportment was that of the finished gentleman and the humble Christian. His hospitable mansion was always open for the accommodations of friends or strangers, and his benevolent heart could never say to the needy, “Depart in peace, by ye warmed and filled,” without imparting such things as were needful.

He was the decided friend of all the benevolent operations of the day, and their liberal patron, in proportion to the means which he possessed. He had no desire to be rich in this world’s goods, and never had much more than a competency, and of the little that was left for the support of his declining years, he bequeathed, in his will, fifty dollars to the cause of missions. A few months previous to his death, he sent for the writer, and told him of the bequest, and that having lived longer than he expected, he began to fear that he might live to see the end of his funds, and as he had given that sum to the Lord, he felt that it was not his own, and desired me to receive it, and give one-half of it to each of the boards of missions, which was accordingly done.

He was a zealous friend and advocate of the cause of temperance, and both by precept and example, inculcated the principle of entire abstinence, long before a temperance society was formed. He continued to the last to manifest a deep interest in the purity, prosperity and peace of the church; and he viewed the painful solitude, the progress of error, and the consequent divisions, jealousies and unhallowed contentions which were rending the church into parties, and holding her up as a reproach to the enemy.

The curious reader will be gratified with the subjoined transcript of the original certificate of his graduation, over the signature of President Witherspoon:

"These testify that the bearer, Joseph Washington Henderson, has resided in the College for two years preceding this date, behaving himself regularly; that he applied himself to his studies with diligence and success; was examined for admission to the degree of Bacheloe of Arts and approved, and is entitled to that standing from this time. In witness whereof, the above is written and subscribed at Princeton, September 26, 1776, by

JOHN WITHERSPOON."

It is said that the cognomen – Washington – was conferred upon him at college, on account of some peculiar excellence which he possessed.

It was a native of Scotland, born in 1831, and emigrated to America when a young man. The first location was in the "crosshatch" valley,
